Safety Information

About Photosensitive Seizures

A very small percentage of people may experience a seizure when exposed to certain visual images, including flashing lights or patterns that may appear in video games. Even people who have no history of seizures or epilepsy may have an undiagnosed condition that can cause these "photosensitive epileptic seizures" while watching video games.

These seizures may have a variety of symptoms, including lightheadedness, altered vision, eye or face twitching, jerking or shaking of arms or legs, disorientation, confusion, or momentary loss of awareness. Seizures may also cause loss of consciousness or convulsions that can lead to injury from falling down or striking nearby objects.

Immediately stop playing and consult a doctor if you experience any of these symptoms. Parents should watch for or ask their children about the above symptoms—children and teenagers are more likely than adults to experience these seizures.

The risk of photosensitive epileptic seizures may be reduced by sitting farther from the television screen, using a smaller television screen, playing in a well-lit room, and not playing when you are drowsy or fatigued.

If you or any of your relatives have a history of seizures or epilepsy, consult a doctor before playing.

Other Important Health and Safety Information The Xbox Instruction Manual contains important health and safety information that you should read and understand before using this software.

Avoid Damage to Your Television

Do not use with certain televisions. Some televisions, especially front- or rear-projection types, can be damaged if any video games, including Xbox games, are played on them. Static images presented during the normal course of gameplay may "burn in" to the screen, causing a permanent shadow of the static image to appear at all times, even when video games are not being played. Similar damage may occur from static images created when placing a video game on hold or pause. Consult your television owner's manual to determine if video games can be played safely on your set. If you are unable to find this information in the owner's manual, contact your television dealer or the manufacturer to determine if video games can be played safely on your set.

AND THE EMPEROR'S TOMB™

As daring archeologist and adventurer Indiana Jones, you travel to 1935 China to prevent a powerful artifact from falling into evil hands. Your latest globe-spanning adventure pits you (as Indy) and an alluring partner, Mei Ying, against evil Nazis and the Asian underworld. Leap, swim, climb, and punch your way through exotic locales, from the jungles of Ceylon, to underwater palaces in Istanbul, to the deadly streets of Hong Kong, and beyond.

It will take more than just a trusty whip and pistol to avoid deadly traps and navigate through all the dangerous environments. Do you have what it takes to possess the mysterious "Heart of the Dragon?"

Kung Fu CHAOS

You're the star of your own kung fu movie, so strut your stuff and make the most of your own talent for irreverent chaos!

Kung Fu Chaos™ is a funny and broadly appealing brawler game, inspired by the '70s kung fu movie era. Fight as various characters whose looks, moves, and taunts are derived from the movie icons they represent. Your quest for movie stardom places you on the dynamic set. When the cameras start to roll, do battle with over-the-top, Hong Kong-style combat including leaps, flying limbs, and multiple opponent-style action. Buy the full version and you'll get kung fu action for up to four players, set to the musical backdrop of appropriately themed anthems.

Okay, that's a wrap!

MECHASSAULT™

Pilot the most powerful weapon of the 31st century, a 40-foot walking tank known as a BattleMech.

MechAssault™ is a third-person action/shooter, where environments are not only fully destructible, they're also a weapon. Every structure, bridge, tower, and bus crumbles at the twitch of your finger. Players can blow away everything in the world bit by bit. Blasting the side of a building exposes rebar, hanging insulation, and even enemies! Take out infantry by dropping a 20-story building on top of them and save the real firepower for the big guys.

The tactics are up to you.

Racing and freestyle explode with the latest installment of the #1 MX videogame franchise.

MX Superfly featuring Ricky Carmichael brings the attitude of the sport to life with huge jumps, death defying tricks, and the true moto psychos of the world! Reap the rewards of racing through an entire season of pulse pounding SX and MX action, upgrading your gear and bike along the way. For freeride madness compete in the all-new freestyle career mode, dazzling the crowd with new tricks and sick maneuvers. Or simply ride the open terrain searching for secret areas without the burden of competition. In addition, MX Superfly featuring Ricky Carmichael supports Xbox Live—access new riders and tracks online. It's your bike—now ride!

Downloadable Content

Pull off a wide assortment of high-flying tricks with this motocross title from THQ. After cleaning the mud off your gear and bike, players are able to download exclusive content through Xbox Live. This includes nine new riders and two additional tracks, Mall Jump and Backyard Bash.

Take the challenge to step onto the hardwood and take it to the rack! With thumpin' hip-hop beats, fluid gameplay, innovative commentary, and incredibly realistic arena models of all the NBA franchises, NBA Inside Drive 2003 delivers the ultimate NBA console experience.

Dozens of dunks, including tip dunks, multiple jukes, and an enhanced post-up game with new post dekes put an entire hoops arsenal at gamers' disposal. Team-specific playbooks and tendencies along with one-touch coaching options provide gamers with the true experience of strategic, on-the-fly play calling.

If you've always wanted to sink the last shot as the buzzer sounds, consider the possibilities with NBA Inside Drive 2003.

Tom Clancy's GHOST RECON™

The year is 2008, and the world teeters on the brink of war. Radical ultranationalists have seized power in Moscow—their goal, the reestablishment of the old Soviet empire. Russian tanks sit in the Caucasus Mountains and the Baltic forests, poised to strike to the south and east. The world holds its breath, and waits.

For one small group of elite soldiers, the war has already begun: U.S. Special Forces Group 5, First Battalion, D Company. Deployed on peacekeeping duty to the Republic of Georgia in the Caucasus, this handful of Green Berets represents the tip of the spear—the first line of defense. Equipped with the latest battlefield technology and trained in the latest techniques of covert warfare, they strike—swiftly, silently, invisibly.

They call themselves "The Ghosts."

MUSIC FEATURES

Nada Surf – "The Way You Wear Your Head" (from Let Go, Barsuk)

Written by Caws/Lorca/Elliot

Released in Europe last year and appearing on many critics' year-end best records lists there, Let Go is NYC trio Nada Surf's third full-length. Amazing pop music with lyrical and musical bite.

Interpol – "Obstacle 1" (from Turn on the Bright Lights, Matador)

Written by Interpol

New York's Interpol make music that is delicate and complicated, but with a healthy shot of punk aggression and rhythmic backbone. Reminiscent of old favorites such as Joy Division and The Fall, their debut record was almost universally loved in 2002 in both the United States and Europe.

Hot Hot Heat – "No, Not Now" (from Make Up the Breakdown, Subpop)

Written by Hot Hot Heat

Hot Hot Heat hails from Victoria, British Columbia, where at some point disco's chocolate apparently got into punk's peanut butter, ending up with a super-catchy mix that is, above all, fun.

Death Cab for Cutie – "Blacking Out the Friction" (from The Photo Album, Barsuk)

Written by Ben Gibbard

Seattle's Death Cab for Cutie has become one of the best-known independent bands in the U.S., blending post-punk melodies with incisive lyrics that wind through crooked pop song structures.

Enon – "Old Dominion" (from High Society, Touch and Go)

Written by Enon

Never before has the world heard such a perfect punk rock electro-pop dance party as the one started by NYC's Enon. High Society, their most recent record, was praised by critics as one of the best of 2002.

Spoon – "The Fitted Shirt" (from Girls Can Tell, Merge)

Written by Britt Daniel

Austin, Texas' Spoon makes mind-blowing rock 'n' roll records than are a match for any classic you care to name. Instantly memorable and impossible to shake, Spoon's most recent album, Kill the Moonlight, was another of 2002's most acclaimed indie-rock records.

Kind of Like Spitting – "Born Beautiful" (from Bridges Worth Burning, Barsuk)

Written by Ben Barnett

Kind of Like Spitting transcends the usual limitations of mainstream punk rock by tempering their undeniable rock with astounding songwriting and guitar playing. KOLS might be the most intriguing and original voice to come out of the mostly-stagnant indie-punk-emo scene in a very long time.

The Apples in Stereo – "Please" (from Velocity of Sound, SpinART)

Written by R. Schneider

The Apples in Stereo have been whipping up a mesmerizing series of heavenly, effects-drenched, full-length pop milkshakes for years now. The helium-filled wonders of their fourth and best record (Velocity of Sound) find the Apples at their most melodic and their noisiest. Fans of The Power Puff Girls probably already know The Apples from their Power Puff episode and video.

Plan B – "Love" (from Like A Ship Sailing, Luckyhorse Industries)

Written by James van Leuven

Dance beats for the mellowly inclined. Plan B is James van Leuven (rock drummer, break dancer, beat manufacturer, computer geek, and multi-instrumentalist) and his laptop. Sorry, ladies, he's moving to Europe this spring...
